Art Collection Given Museum by Hamlin

President Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Makes Great Gift Announces Hill

Transfer of title to a magnificent collection of art objects, the gift of Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell, was announced by President J. A. Hill of West Texas State Saturday night at the summer commencement. The collection, which includes paintings, furniture, rare silver, and many other art objects, will be placed in the Panhandle-Plains Museum when the new two-story addition is completed.

Judge Hamlin is president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

In the main commencement address, Dr. Robert L. Sutherland of Austin pleaded for an educational and public leadership which will retain, despite the war, the human gains made in this century. He expressed distrust of the methods and spirit of wartime, declaring that different abilities are needed to live happily in peace.

He noted that in this first great people's war even the dictators have recognized the importance of the individual soldier. American morale is high, he added, because soldiers and citizens alike share a common purpose and each group are treated as individuals. Compulsion is being avoided in private life, while the military services are seeking to fit soldiers into places they best can fill.

The first obligation of the citizen in this crisis, Dr. Sutherland said, is to avoid hazards which will render him useless in the emergency. These hazards were defined as emotional distractions, living in a sense of guilt, fear, hate, and apathy. "Keeping up with the Joneses," was mentioned as an American habit which gives rise to many fears.

"Love—don't worry," the speaker

Lieut. Penick had fought with the American air force in the Java campaign. His death was due to a plane accident, details of which have not been received.

Rain Falls Over Much of County Saturday Night

Rain fell over a greater part of Randall county Saturday evening. In Canyon the rain amounted to .75 of an inch. The moisture was very spotted over the county, ranging from a mere shower to more than an inch in some sections of the county.

There are still many thousands of bushels of wheat on the ground over the county. While storage is being secured for much wheat, the situation is still critical with many of the large producers.

The row crop ranges from nothing to fairly good, depending upon the amount of moisture which fell. Farmers are hoping for good rains all over the county at once.

Nicklaus Named Aid to Miller

Well Known Athlete and Coach Will Become Member of West Texas State Faculty

W. W. NICKLAUS

Head Coach W. A. (Gus) Miller will have as his assistant in West Texas State athletics a former student, W. W. (Windy) Nicklaus, former head mentor of Oklahoma Baptist University. Nicklaus, who played football at Bucknell and Texas Tech, is finishing work for the M. A. degree at the Oklahoma A. & M. College.

Nicklaus' teams won 47 of 57 football games and tied two. His experience was at Amarillo College, Altus (Okla.) Junior College, and O. B. U. Last season he coached at Borger High School.

Employment of Nicklaus completes the reorganization of West Texas State's coaching staff. Every member of the 1941 staff is in the U. S. armed forces. Athletic Director, Al Baggett, coach of the Border Conference basketball champions, is now director of physical training at the U. S. Army Air Corps technical school at Miama Beach, Fla. Assistant Coach Leslie Van Meter, who was promoted at mid-year to head coach, is instructor in swimming there. Jack C. Curtice, who resigned to go to Texas Mines, is in the Navy's physical training program.

West Texas State will open its fall training camp with about fifty men in early September. Of these men, only half a dozen will be starters from the 1942 eleven which won third place in the strong Border Conference. Half of the 1941 squadmen and starters will be reservists of the Navy, Army, and Marine Corps. Freshmen likely will be prominent in the lineup. Eight games will be played.

In case any car owner asks for stamps from the Collector of Internal Revenue, he must establish the fact that he has not used his car prior to the date of application.

Governor Has a Landslide Race

No Changes In Randall County, Excepting Flesher for County Attorney Office

Randall county voters made no changes in the official family in the primary election held last Saturday.

The only county-wide contest was between County and District Clerk A. B. Holt and Mrs. Berl Edwards Mayfield, former clerk. Mr. Holt won the election by a vote of 1082 to 523.

The only precinct contest was between County Commissioner Clarence Beckman and Ernest Hollenstein. Mr. Beckman won by a vote of 144 to 79.

C. R. Flesher will be the only new county official. He was elected County Attorney without opposition as J. D. Barker was not a candidate for re-election.

Judge Henry S. Bishop was elected District Judge over Riley Strickland. Bishop has served both as District Attorney and District Judge for many years and won this contest by nearly 400 majority.

District Attorney Bob Underwood was not a candidate for re-election. Assistant District Attorney Jim Lumpkin was elected without opposition.

State Representative G. H. Little was elected for a fourth term without opposition.

Congressman Eugene Worley won by a landslide over Lynn Miller.

District Judge E. C. Nelson and Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock go into the August run-off. They were candidates for Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals. This will be the only district contest for August.

The hottest race of the year was for U. S. Senator. W. Lee O'Daniel barely missed a majority and must make his first run-off since entering politics. Former Governor James V. Allred will oppose him, and from all indications this will be the hottest political battle staged in Texas for many years.

A total of 971,210 votes have been reported. It is believed that not more than 4,000 votes are yet to be reported. O'Daniel has 48.42% of the vote, Allred 32.05%, and Moody 18.22%.

Governor Coke Stevenson won over five opponents in a landslide. The blessings of O'Daniel were not enough to get many votes for Hal Collins.

There will be a run-off for lieutenant governor; state treasurer; railroad commissioner for the unexpired term; court of civil appeals.

Thick Corn Husks Indicate Cold Winter

B. T. Johnson brought the shucks from an ear of corn to The News office Monday which were very heavy and thick.

Mr. Johnson has observed weather conditions since he arrived on the Plains 51 years ago. Nature provides pretty accurate forecasts of the weather for the coming winter, according to observation of Mr. Johnson. From these shucks, Mr. Johnson believes that there will be a cold winter. These indications seldom fail.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

"My pappy done told me there ain't a goin' to be a run-off," was a favored expression as the election returns indicate that W. Lee O'Daniel neared a majority.

Well, Pappy missed it a little and there will be a run-off. With such a small amount of difference, it looks hopeless for James V. Allred. It will take a miracle for him to win, but miracles have happened, and may happen again on August 22. We shall see what we shall see. There are fully 400,000 votes to be fought over, and Allred could easily win.

The News indicated months ago that it would not be surprised to see O'Daniel win in the first primary. While we fought him with our might and main, we did not overlook the fact that O'Daniel is the smoothest professional politician who has ever performed in Texas, and it is going to take a supreme effort to oust him. The News is happy that Randall county went so strong against O'Daniel.

The News was surprised that Dan Moody had such a small following. Moody made the most statesman-like speeches of the campaign. While Allred was mimicking O'Daniel in his showmanship, Moody went right down the line talking sense.

Allred will really put on the pressure during the run-off, while O'Daniel will continue to evade issues and make more hillbilly music. One good thing was developed by Dan Moody during the campaign. He smoked O'Daniel out and made the Senator take a stand on some fundamental issues, rather than talk in generalities about the campaign and brag about having a son in the army.

Friends of Governor Coke Stevenson were scared last week that Collins might get enough votes to make a run-off necessary. While the people of Texas have been fooled by the music making of O'Daniel, it is evident that they decided that one man hand in politics was enough. Collins proved to be a complete washout, and furthermore, the other minor candidates for Governor received scant recognition. The people of Texas did themselves proud in re-electing Coke Stevenson by a landslide.

It was really a surprise to see Senator John Lee Smith lead the race for Lieutenant Governor. Senator Harold Bock was second. Both of these men are able and either would make a good presiding officer.

Horrors of horrors! How short is the memory of Texas voters. The damned refused to stay damned, and Willkieeral J. E. McDonald was re-elected over three good men. Just two short years ago Bill Corry received more than 400,000 votes in a write-in campaign against McDonald in the general election. At that time we Democrats were boiling over and hot as a firecracker for Roosevelt and against Willkie. McDonald came out openly for Willkie, and us Democrats sure raised heck, and came mighty near whipping McDonald. But here in 1942 the Democrats of Texas are not nearly so mad at Willkie and the gang who supported him in 1940. As a result McDonald whipped the field, and goes back into office for another two years, evidently forgiven for having strayed from the Democratic fold. What an election!

Jessie James did not win over four candidates for State Treasurer, and goes into the run-off with W. Gregory Hatcher. Both are able men, but Hatcher does not have the happy ability of getting along with people. James is an appointee of Governor Stevenson. He is a man of high character and ability and should be elected.

The News is happy that our good friend Col. Ernest O. Thompson defeated two opponents. The people need Thompson on the Railroad Commission.

Pierce Brooks did the usual thing in leading the ticket for the un-expired term for Railroad Commissioner. Brooks has led many times in the first primary but always loses in the second election. He goes into the run-off with Beauford Jester. Jester should be elected to succeed Jerry Sadler — provided Sadler can be ousted. You remember that Sadler resigned, tried to pass Jim Kilday off on the people as his successor. When this failed Sadler comes back and says he will finish out the term. Regardless of who wins, Sadler will probably stage a suit to hold his office.

The August primary ticket will be very short. There will be only five contests, and election judges will have a picnic holding this election as compared with the long ballot of Saturday. August 22 will be the date. The vote in Randall county last Saturday was 800 under normal, and 800 under maximum strength. The News hopes that all qualified voters will take time out and go to the polls to help finish the job which was started last Saturday.

AFTER THE WAR?

Did you hear Cordell Hull speak the other night? If you did not hear him, read his speech as reported in the daily newspapers. The Secretary of State outlined the big job which confronts the nation in winning the war. What he went into the problems which will confront the world after the war—presuming that the United Nations win.

His discussion of the war should sober any citizen who still believes that this war is an easy job, and that our men are winning the battles. Unfortunately there are still a few people in the nation who are not convinced that we have a whale of a job ahead of us in winning the war.

The Secretary spent considerable time in discussing the world after the war. He made it clear that the United Nations should win the war permanently instead of winning the present battle, and then settle back to an uncertain existence for another quarter century while some nation gets ready for another war.

To win this war is one thing. To win the peace, a permanent peace, is an altogether different question. This war will have been fought in vain, unless the United Nations make provision to enforce the peace in order to insure a lasting peace.

The United States turned the trick of winning an armistice in 1918. But unfortunately we did not win a war. We got a breathing spell, and now are engaged in a much greater war than we experienced in 1917-18. We are losing men faster than we lost them during World War I. We shall lose many more before the war is over.

One thing is sure and certain—the United Nations must be world policeman after this war, or go into another war in another 20 or 25 years.

In 1918 Woodrow Wilson had a vision of a world freed from war. He could not sell his idea to the American people. Wilson gave his life to a cause. When the people foolishly turned against him and refused to adopt the League of Nations it broke Wilson's heart. There is no other way to figure it. Those who fought the League of Nations thought they were doing the nation a good service. As it turned out, the isolationists were the foolish ones and must be charged with the loss of the thousands of fine American boys who are giving their lives in this war.

We say that this war could have been avoided had the United States been willing to serve as a world police force. The isolationists won a great victory in 1918—and our boys are paying for this mistake with their blood in 1942.

Secretary Hull is doing a great service to the American people in educating them to the necessity of taking our part in this war torn world before it is too late.

The sad news of the death of one of our fine young men last week brought the war close to Canyon. Lieut. Curtis Pettit was one of our finest young men. He wanted to fly for Uncle Sam, and joined the air corps soon after receiving his degree from West Texas State. He made an impressive record as an aviator. He was with the fighting forces during the Java campaign, and his family believe that he was in several engagements with the Japs. The details of his death have not been received. The War Department made it clear that he was not in combat when he met his death. The news of his death was a terrible shock to the young wife, to whom a son had been born only two days before the death of the aviator. Sorrowing friends extend sympathy to the wife, parents of the young man and other members of the family. The war has come close to Canyon. This death message is only the first of many more which will follow as the war increases in furor, and as more and more Randall county boys are engaged in this conflict. The war has already taken a heavy toll of Americans. Randall county has contributed other young men to the list of missing men. It is hoped that the others are prisoners of the Japs, but there is no assurance of this fact. War is a terrible and useless thing, but America will not submit to slavery under the whip of Hitler or a Tojo so long as there is an able bodied man left in the nation to man any of the power war machines which we are building. Be it remembered by those of us who are not as yet personally affected by the death list, that there remains a big job to do. We have the obligation of writing a peace which shall outlaw war, and that we see to it that an adequate world police force is maintained in order to make future wars impossible. If this is done, this war will not have been fought in vain, and the blood spilled by our splendid young men will not have been shed in vain.

Admiral W. D. Leahy has been named by the President as his assistant in handling the war. The President is loaded down with details, many of which must be taken off his shoulders. Leahy is a great man for the job. He has represented the nation in France during the past months, and knows what the score is in regard to France and Hitler. Furthermore, the Admiral tried to stop the foolish practice of Americans selling the Japs raw materials. Millions of tons of iron and oil were sold to the Japs, and today these are being used to kill our boys. Even Secretary Hull was fooled by the Japs on this deal. Leahy argued with everyone in Washington about the foolishness of these sales, but could get no sympathy. You understand that Dollar Diplomacy has ruled in Washington during all of these years. We allow our people to make all the money that they can extract, in spite of future results. Leahy should be in a position to iron out some of the kinks which have hitherto handicapped our war efforts.

O'Daniel has become very hostile at the radio. You understand that he has always condemned the press and was the first governor of Texas to refuse to meet newspaper men. (They asked him too many questions that he could not answer.) Now he turns on his first love, the radio, because the radio has been made responsible for what is said over the air. Regardless of his furor at the press and radio, the people of Texas would like to know who is paying for the radio time O'Daniel has used during the campaign. He does not list it on his expense account; Collins did not list it. Why did these candidates try to fool the people of Texas? The people know that the radio stations are not so big hearted as to furnish this time, and certainly the money spent on the radio is a campaign expense. Will the Senator continue to refuse to make a correct accounting of his expenses? That is what he is doing in refusing to list this expense.

Military experts say that the next two months will decide the war. This does not mean that the war will be won or lost in this short period of time, but that the definite trend will be established by that time. If Hitler breaks through the Russian lines, the war will continue for a much longer time than Americans anticipate. If Russia can hold Hitler out of the oil fields until the blizzards of winter start, Hitler will be forced back, just as he was last winter. Time is the mighty factor for which the Russians are playing. Many military experts believe that the preponderence of Russian manpower will finally decide the war, and that Hitler must eventually be whipped because of this manpower. They figure the same fate for the Japs in China. In the meanwhile, thousands of fine American boys will be paying the supreme sacrifice on the many battle fronts of the war.

America is the crucible of God. It is the melting pot where all the races are fusing and reforming . . . these are the fires of God you've come to . . . Into the crucible with you all. God is making the American.—Zangwill.

War Gases Discussed At Rotary Luncheon Capt. R. A. Neblett

What to do in case of a gas attack was discussed Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon by Dr. R. A. Neblett, who will soon enter the Medical Corps of the Army with the rank of Captain.

While Canyon may never have a gas attack, all citizens should know what to do in case there is such an attack. When gas comes, it is too late to ask what to do.

The following suggestions were made by Dr. Neblett:

The following information on war gases is supplied for general publication because of the possibility that they may at some time be used by the enemy. If people will remember a few simple facts, they will have no unreasonable fear of this agent.

1 War gases stay close to the ground, for they are heavier than air. To get out of a gassed area, simply walk against the wind or go upstairs.

2. Gas is irritating and annoying to the eyes, nose, lungs, or to the skin, but it is usually harmless if you do not become panicky but promptly leave the gas area and cleanse yourself. A soldier must put on a mask where it is necessary to remain in the contaminated area, but a civilian can go up on the second or third floor and literally ignore it if the windows are kept closed.

3. If the gas should get on your skin, you can prevent it from doing much harm by sponging it off as quickly as possible with a piece of clothing, such as a handkerchief, and applying some nutralizing substance, followed by a thorough bath, preferably a shower, with common laundry soap and water.

4. If you are indoors, stay there with doors and windows closed, and go up to the second or third story. Stay out of basements. Turn off the air conditioning, and stop up fireplaces and other large openings.

5. Some gases are spread as oily droplets which blister and burn the skin and eyes. If you are outside when gas is used do not look up. Tear off a piece of clothing or use a handkerchief to blot any drops of liquid from your skin and throw the contaminated cloth away. Blot; do not rub, as rubbing will spread the liquid. Then go home, if it is nearby, or to the nearest place where you can wash immediately with soap and water and cleanse yourself in the following manner:

1. Remove all outer clothing outside the house, since gas can be transmitted to others from contaminated clothing. Put it preferably in a covered garbage pail.

2. Apply one of the following effective household remedies to the part of your skin that has been contaminated: Chlorox or similar household bleach (for mustard); peroxide of hydrogen (for Lewisite); past of solution of baking soda if you have no peroxide or bleach. If you do not know the gas, use both peroxide and bleach. Keep bleach and peroxide out of the eyes. Do not waste time looking for these remedies; bathe immediately if they are not at hand.

3. After entering the house, wash the bleach or peroxide from hands with laundry soap and water and then wash the face. Remove the underclothing, place it in a covered garbage pail, and enter the bathroom.

4. Irrigate the eyes with large amounts of lukewarm 2 percent solution of baking soda (one tablespoonful to a quart of water), or else with plain water. Use an ordinary irrigating douche bag or an eye irrigator. If you do not have these, let plain water pour into the eyes from the shower, washing them thoroughly. Do not press or rub the eyes.

5. Lastly, take a shower, using laundry soap and hot water.

6. If the nose and throat feel irritated, wash them out also with baking soda solution.

7. If your chest feels heavy and oppressed, if you have any trouble breathing, or if cigarette smoke becomes distasteful, lie down and stay perfectly still until a doctor sees you.

8. If blisters develop, be careful not to break them and call a doctor.

Injured persons, who are gassed, require decontamination before they can be admitted to hospitals. All other civilians can best prevent any serious injury by promptly helping themselves in the manner outlined, using a kitchen or bathroom, laundry soap and water, and a few materials found in every household.

The great live oak near Lamar, Arkansas County, is frequently referred to as the largest tree in Texas. Its trunk two feet above crown roots has a circumference of 29 feet, six inches. Maximum spread of limbs is 102 feet. It is known as the Lamar Oak and also as the Taylor Oak, from General Zachary Taylor who camped under it during the Mexican War.

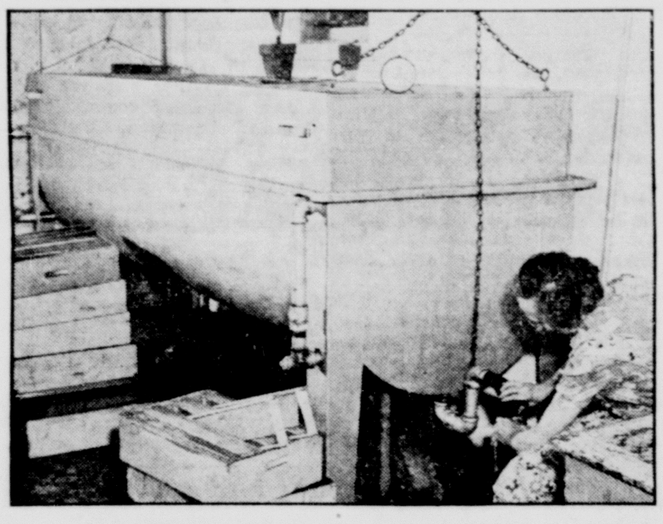
Honey Sweetens War Production



Busy bees of the nation are doing their part to help the war effort. Beeswax, in great demand for waterproofing big shells, is currently selling for more per pound than honey. In decrystallizing tanks like this one, which fits into the basement of an average home, 6000 pounds of honey can be handled in a day. Any granulation which may have occurred in the honey disappears and valuable beeswax melts off when raw honey is heated to 150 degrees. Honey is run off into bottles and capped.

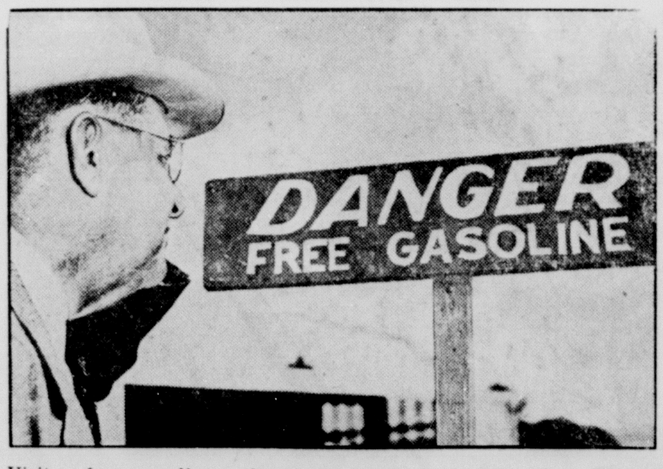
What? Free Gasoline?



Visitors from gasoline-rationed eastern states are amazed at this sign near Kelly Field, Tex. Even John R. Turnbull, Houston oilman, is puzzled. Signs are posted near training ships undergoing repairs on gas lines and engines.

Grandpa Drafted

This isn't a young man's war, W. W. Anderson, 45, of Clinto, Ia., has learned. His granddaughter, Judy Anderson, is on hand to watch him pack. Because he has no dependents, Anderson, a mechanic, is being drafted ahead of his son.

Clear the Attic

Attics are easy prey for incendiaries because they are built chiefly of wood and are protected only by the roof. All combustible material should be removed, and a rake and shovel and a couple of buckets of sand should be available. Scoop the incendiary bomb into the shovel with the rake, and dump it into sand bucket, where it is comparatively harmless. Make sure shovel has long handle as protection against bomb's intense heat.

Cut Fuel Wood

Farmers now are being urged to cut and season as much fuel wood as possible, and to substitute wood for coal and oil. Fuel value of wood is proportional to its dry weight, the Forest Service reports. Stove-makers have been assured they will have enough metal for manufacture of wood-burning stoves.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of August 2, 1917)

The local board started examining men for the first draft.

Proffessor J. A. Hill was selected president of one of the new normal colleges which were authorized by the last session of the legislature. The board of regents did not assign him to a place at this time.

S. S. and Carl Coffee bought lots west of the Lusby Studio and will soon start construction of new homes which they will occupy.

Gov. Jas. E. Ferguson was indicted by the Travis County grand jury on nine counts. This is the first time in history that a Texas Governor has been indicted. One of the counts in the indictment was a charge of mishandling the insurance money collected when the first normal building burned. It is charged that Ferguson took the money out of banks which paid interest on the funds and placed the money in banks which paid no interest. Gov. Ferguson surprised his political foes by calling a session of the legislature.

Oscar Smith, chairman of the local draft board, has discovered that not a single "Smith" is registered in Randall county.

Miss Renna Craig and Alfred Bellah were married at Kingston.

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such findings thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election. 20t4
